Well! Well! Well!

The Rev. Edward E. Wells, the Rev. Frederick A. Wells and the Rev. G. Leon Wells, all brothers and all grandsons of the late Rev. George L. Wells, of Hardwick, are Methodist Episcopal ministers. Until the death last year of the grandfather, all four were members of the Vermont conference. The Rev. E. E. Wells was transferred recently to the New England southern conference. The Rev. F. A. Wells is pastor at Brattleboro, and the Rev. G. Leon Wells has just taken the charge at Irasburg formerly held by the Rev. E. E. Wells. The Rev. Oscar B. Wells, also of the Vermont conference, is a cousin of the Wells brothers.

Oliver T. Willard.

Oliver Tuttle Willard was born in Sheffield and died at Barton Friday, April 20, at the age of 73 years. He was one of a family of six children, only two of whom are now living. The greater part of his boyhood life was lived in Sheffield. While yet a young man he moved to South Barton, or Willoughby as it is now called. He married Miss Emma Garland of New Hampshire and they lived happily together for 47 years. Three years ago he moved to Barton where he and his wife have lived with their son Ora. Two weeks before he died he was taken with a severe illness, and every hope was entertained at first for his recovery. A bad heart trouble developed and he passed quickly and quietly out.

He leaves one brother, Paul W. Willard of Sheffield and one sister, Mrs. Alec Drake. Two children Ora, a son with whom he lived, and one daughter, Mrs. Ursula Woodbridge of Massachusetts, and his wife are left to mourn his loss. The funeral services occurred Sunday afternoon, and were conducted by Rev. W. A. Warner, pastor of the Congregational church. The family have the deepest sympathy of their many friends.

Methodist Church Notes.

Prayer meeting on Thursday evening at 7:30.

Rev. W. B. Dukeshire returned from conference last week and has been returned to Barton for another year.

At the Sunday evening service Mr. Dukeshire gave an address describing the work of the annual conference recently held at Waterbury.

Last Wednesday evening a reception of welcome was given to Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Dukeshire. The vestry was very prettily decorated and a very nice program of music was carried out. Words of welcome were given by Rev. A. B. Blake and Rev. W. A. Warner, which were responded to by Rev. W. B. Dukeshire. Mr. Blake also read a poem of his own composition that was full of kindly feeling and of real poetic merit. A large number were present and a spirit of gladness and good feeling prevailed. After enjoying refreshments and a good time the company went home feeling that all had had a good time.

Public Service Commission's Findings.

R. W. Spear, clerk of the Vermont Public Service commission, gives out the following:

The commission has recently promulgated an order for the elimination of the "Pine Street crossing" so called, in the village of North Troy, on the Canadian Pacific railway. The order directs that the railway company construct an underpass and a connecting section of highway, which when completed will be in lieu of the grade crossing, which is extremely dangerous. The work is to be completed on or before December 1, 1911, and the expense is to be borne by the town of Troy, State of Vermont, and the Canadian Pacific railway company in the proportions of ten per cent, twenty-five per cent and sixty-five per cent respectively.

In the case of the fatal accident to George Duquette, who was instantly killed in the Newport yard, on Feb. 19, 1911, on the Boston & Maine railroad, the Commission held a public investigation Feb. 23, 1911, and has published its findings which are to the effect that Mr. Duquette was struck while walking between the rails on his way to his work at the Boston & Maine round house about five o'clock a. m.; that it appeared that about fifty employees of the Boston & Maine railroad are accustomed to go to and fro in the yard along the route pursued by Mr. Duquette; that at the hour of this accident about fifteen of these employees are accustomed to traverse this route in going to their work and are compelled to walk between the rails because of the accumulation of snow outside thereof. That all of these facts were well known to the engineer of the switch engine and though he testified that the engine was not moving faster than four miles an hour the commission feels that he should have caused the engine bell to have been continuously rung while the engine was moving through the yard. He testified that it was rung until it was about 2000 feet from where Mr. Duquette was struck. The commission also states that in view of the necessary use of the yards by the employees of the railroads in going to and from their work and in their work, that the snow should not be allowed to accumulate between the several sets of main line tracks; that suitable provision should be made for some sort of path for employees to use instead of being compelled to walk between the rails.

The following letter remains uncalled for at the post-office. Please say advertised when calling for these letters. Charles Bigelow.

The program of reading or quotation in answer to roll call intended for the last grange meeting will be used at the next one, May 2.

Captain Rufus Averill.

Captain Rufus Averill, whose death was mentioned in a recent issue of this paper, died at his home in Hays, Kansas, Apr. 8. Mr. Averill was born in Lyndon, Oct. 27, 1833 being the only son of Samuel and Sabina (Pierce) Averill. He attended school in Lyndon, St. Johnsbury and Derby. In 1861 he married Miss Amanda M. Gould of Portsmouth, R. I., a woman loved by all who knew her. By this marriage four children were born, Mrs. Josephine Robinson of Laconia, N. H., Thomas Gould of Chicago, Mrs. Mabelle Atkins of this place and Charles Collier of Boston. He was a resident of this place 32 years, moving to Hays two years ago. In 1862 he enlisted as a volunteer in the 15th Vermont Infantry, being promoted to 1st Lieutenant of Co. I. He was honorably discharged owing to injuries received while in service. He also derived the name of Captain from serving his country. He was a member of the G. A. R. Post, a Mason and held several town offices, representing the town of Westmore in the legislature in 1894. He traveled as agent for Wells, Richardson & Company for 15 years, taking him largely through the western states. For 25 years he had run the steamer "Keewadin" on Lake Willoughby, his home being on its shores. He was a most congenial, courteous man, winning friends wherever he went. His wife died June 28, 1885. In 1887 he married Miss Emma McLain of Canton, Ohio, who kindly cared for him in his last days. He was a kind husband, father and neighbor. He leaves to mourn his loss, a wife, four children, one grandchild and a host of friends. Funeral services were held at the Methodist Episcopal church at Hays. His son, T. G. Averill of Chicago, attended the funeral. His death is keenly felt by the daughters and son who were unable to attend. Interment was in the cemetery, a beautiful place quite near his home. The community's sincere sympathy is extended the relatives.

with his team. Others went by private teams or on foot. About 50 or more were present. They greatly enjoyed the doughnuts and pickles, and boiled eggs and sugar on snow which Mr. and Mrs. Colby's hospitality furnished.

The annual meeting of the Afternoon Study club was held at Hotel Barton with Mrs. C. C. Baldwin, sixteen members being present. After roll call the following officers were elected to serve for the ensuing year. President, Mrs. Alice Hamblet; vice president, Mrs. Helen Royston; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Annie Pearson; program committee, Mrs. Alice Underwood, Miss Ethel Ross and Mrs. Emily Baldwin; flower committee, Mrs. Ada Webster and critic, Mrs. Luvia Webster. Mrs. C. B. Webster favored the club with a song and Mrs. Baldwin a piano solo. Meeting adjourned to meet next October.

The concert for the dedication of the pipe organ at the Congregational church, will be held on the evening of Tuesday, May 2, at 8 o'clock. Admission 25 cents. The committee in charge consider themselves very fortunate in being able to present the following talent. Mrs. Margaret Gorman Glaser, chorister and organist of the Washington street Baptist church of Lynn, Mass., and a popular accompanist and teacher of music in Boston. Miss Claribel Somers, mezzo soprano soloist of the Leyden Congregational church of Brookline, Mass. Miss Somers is a pupil of Karl Johannes Doering and is well known in this country.
